AIE students and families,

The Cloquet American Indian Education Program is having our annual spring powwow on Saturday April 27, 2019 at the Cloquet Middle School gymnasium. This is the fourth consecutive year of the Cloquet American Indian Education Royalty Contest. Please see the below rules for entering the contest and stop by an Indian Education classroom for a complete contest packet.

Rules:
• Write a one page essay on why you would like to enter, how will you honor having this position, and what will you do when becoming princess/brave.
• Do an Ojibwe language introduction speech at the powwow.
• Dance contest at the powwow.

As being a student in school you will also have to follow the parent/student handbook rules. What we will be looking at in addition are:
• Grades
• Attendance
• Behavior

Please think about why you would like to become the Cloquet Public Schools AIE Royalty. You should also think about how you will honor this position if you become Princess/Brave and how you will represent yourself and uphold this very honorable position.

The following will need to be submitted to the Indian Education Classroom no later than April 12, 2019:
• One page essay
• Royalty Application
• Signed permission slip by parent/guardian

Good luck to everyone!
